Editorial

Sell your vote: Sell your right

The history of our county indicates that the past elections have left many Ugandans left marginalized by both process and outcomes. The greatest challenge with these elections has been the regularities caused by the use of huge sums of money and other items in form of vote buying. This poses a double loss for the citizens who lose their dignity and have to live with a non-responsive leadership that can't effectively serve them.

In this special edition of the Black Monday Newsletter, we bring you our religious leaders' voices calling for an end to vote buying and selling. We must come to that point where we believe in credible leadership that engages in clean politics where there is neither vote buying nor vote selling. Our campaign for No Vote Buying/ Selling will continue to mobilise as many Ugandans to stand up and shun all forms of electoral corruption.

As part of edutainment we have presented a collection of the cartoons in our past editions that reflect how corruption has continued to affect service delivery. As citizens we should be able to connect how the high level of voter bribery will eventually bring down the infrastructural set up and overall service delivery. Remember that every time you sell your vote for anything, you have sold your right to demand for accountability from those who have bought you. Your vote is thus your right; it is not cheap!

RESIST BRIBERY

"Politicians are in high gear preparing for 2016 polls. I warn the voters against taking bribes. This is compared to selling your souls for monetary value at the expense of ruining the country." Cardinal Emmanuel Wamala.

"Reject their money, soap, salt, sugar, fuel and other items because you are indirectly legalizing and accepting to endorse half-baked politicians who cannot deliver."

CARDINAL EMMANUEL WAMALA.

SHORT SIGHTED VOTE SELLING

"The worst thing you can do to your country is sell your voting rights or buy yourself into power,"

"Leadership is a calling from God, seek his path if you want to assume leadership and stop deceiving voters with money, soap, salt and other things to lure them into voting you into office,"

ARCHBISHOP STANLEY NTAGALI

OUTRIGHTLY REFUSE BRIBERY

"We have also heard those who tell you that: eat the money but vote wisely. That is also wrong,"

IMAM KASOZI.

IT IS WRONG

"Voter bribery is evil and we should all shun it,"

BISHOP DR. ZAC NIRINGIYE.

SUMMARY OF CORRUPTION SCANDALS TO LOOK BACK AT

What must we do to get our money back?

- Wear only black clothes every Monday to show you are tired of theft.
- Demand political action from the President
- Isolate every thief implicated in a theft scandal. Don't invite them to your burials, weddings.
- Do not buy goods or services from businesses owned by thieves. Support Ugandans working honestly to make a living.
- Until all the thieves have returned our money.
