

A 9 Point Guide to Understanding the National NGO Policy and Supporting its Implementation

A Summary of the National NGO Policy

July 2012

PREFACE AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Government fully acknowledges and recognizes the key role that Non Governmental Organisations play in service delivery especially to marginalised groups and improving accountability of public institutions. The National NGO Policy is the first of its kind in Uganda. It provides the overall framework under which the Government will engage with NGOs as part of the development process.

The broad aim of the National NGO Policy is to set out a framework that strengthens the relationship between the NGO sector and Government and enhance capacities and effectiveness in the areas of service delivery, advocacy and empowerment.

The spirit of cooperation between NGOs and Government was aptly demonstrated during the consultative process in formulating the National NGO Policy. Various stakeholders were consulted and made their input. The overall framework for its implementation re-affirms this spirit and we now expect that the actual implementation does the same.

I would like to thank the Office of the Prime Minister, my ministry and especially the NGO Registration Board and NGOs for developing this Summary Version of the National NGO Policy with the aim of making it more accessible for different stakeholders. I encourage every institution identified as key in the implementation of this policy to play their part to ensure that it is a success.

Eng. Hilary Onok (MP)

1

What is the National NGO Policy?

The NGO Policy is a document that sets out the overall framework for strengthening partnerships between Government and NGOs in development. It is set within the context of the Constitution of Republic of Uganda and the Public Private Partnerships Principles (PPPs).

The NGO Policy contains a situational Analysis of the NGO Sector in Uganda, espouses a vision and principles for the partnership between NGOs and Government and sets out an Implementation framework for the implementation of the NGO Policy.

Why was it developed?

The National NGO Policy notes that while the existing NGO Act addresses the basic legal and regulatory issues about the NGO Sector, Uganda has lacked a comprehensive policy to guide the development of the NGO Sector and hence facilitate strengthening of NGO – Government relations. The broad goal of the NGO Policy and its specific objectives are:

Goal

The broad aim of the National NGO Policy is to set out a framework that strengthens the relationship between the NGO sector and Government, and enhance capacities and effectiveness in the areas of service delivery, advocacy and community empowerment.

Specific Objectives

- Define NGOs and their role with a view to promoting increased citizen participation in policy-making processes and development issues;
- Clarify the role of other stakeholders and their relationship with NGO actors;

- Ensure the autonomy of duly registered NGOs; and
- Promote a culture of accountability amongst different players in national development.
- Provide for guidelines in partnership between government and NGOs in implementing specific programmes

3

When and how was it developed?

The process to develop the National NGO Policy started in 2007 and the final document was approved by Cabinet in October 2010.

The process involved a series of consultations and discussions with a wide range of stakeholders at regional and national level. Various interest groups including NGOs and NGO umbrella bodies, public servants at national, district and lower levels, Parliamentarians, the Private Sector and Donor representatives were all consulted.

This National NGO Policy is, therefore, a landmark development that culminated from a long consultative process involving several stakeholders.
