On the 23rd of June 2018; the ambience in Soroti was that of a people awake for a purpose- The long awaited Marathon, to run for Teso in a bid to lobby for quality public service delivery from public servants and Government. ActionAid led by the Actg. Country Director Bruno Ssemaganda were at the venue – Soroti Sports Ground as early as 7am. Men, women and children from the larger Teso District and its environs converged much earlier evidencing the value that they attached to this day and certainly what it means for them individually and communally as they were geared up both in spirit and running gear to showcase their prowess in running, join the world in celebrating this day or simply; run alongside Uganda's own Double Commonwealth Champion – Joshua Cheptegei. Not to be forgotten were persons with disability who were equally enthusiastic to be part of this occasion.

The race kicked off at about 10am and was clustered in three categories; two, five and ten kilometres along a designated route. Some of the other dignitaries who graced the event were Isaac Kawoya - Soroti Resident District Commissioner (RDC), Hon. George Francis Egungu - Soroti District Chairperson, Hon. Angeline Osegge - Woman MP Soroti and Chairperson Public Accounts Committee (PAC) and Hon. David Karubanga - The Minister of State for Public Service who was the guest of honour. The Minister asserted that, "This day is not celebrated not as a ritual but for a reason. It is thus imperative that we collaborate to ensure that the pronouncements we make, we follow them through in practice as government, NGOs, communities and individually.

In a rejoinder, Hon. Osegge cited one of the many situations that make it hard to tackle corruption, "We almost impeached the Minister for Finance because the appointing authority did nothing on the corruption issues raised. However, we failed because members of the oversight committee held a caucus and compromised the impeachment. It is better to sacrifice one person and save 35million people"

World medallist Joshua Cheptegei who was the lead runner said, "Corruption is a cancer that has made our Country's development be on standstill and the result of this can be seen in the quality of life that Ugandans across the country live".

A position paper of the service delivery deliberations was presented to the Minister by ActionAid Actg. Country Director Bruno Ssemaganda, which was developed at during a public dialogue on public service delivery on 22nd June. It looked at the success, opportunities for improvement and systemic challenges. The position paper will form the basis of engagements, collaborations, networking and monitoring of timeliness, responsiveness and cost effectiveness of public service delivery in Uganda.

ActionAid as well organized a Public Dialogue in Masindi under the theme:

"Winning the Fight against Corruption: A Sustainable Path to Uganda's Transformation". Members of Parliament, the representatives from the Inspectorate of Government, civil society organizations and young people were present during this day. The dialogue was meant to discuss major challenges in the delivery of public services and seek sustainable solutions in the fight against corruption.

AAU also recognized and awarded best 12 performing public servants within the Bunyoro mid-western region. The awards were handed over by the Hon. Mukitale – MP, Bulisa and Mrs. Munira Ali from the Inspectorate of Government.

In Soroti public dialogue was held prior to the Marathon. The day-long dialogue held in Soroti at Akello Hotel o focused on three components; what are the areas where citizens are proud of as pertains to service delivery? What are the triggers of poor service delivery? And what are the probable opportunities for improvement of service delivery to all Ugandans?

The composition of the stakeholders was that of; trade unions, the academia, politicians, technocrats, CSOs and Community Activists. Cluster Coordinator Emmanuel Wafula assured participants of Action Aid's pride in them for owning this process and enriching the discussions.

"We will work collaboratively to formulate a position paper to guide, inform and influence practice and action towards actualising and achieving Gender Responsive Service (GRPS) Delivery in a quality, timely and responsive way".

By Matilda Natukunda

The Nebbi and Packwach leadership have confirmed that there are alarming trends of GBV in the districts as indicated in a report compiled by NGO Forum. In 2006 , 400 cases were reported in Nebbi referral hospital alone! This is partly attributed to the high levels of defilement, sex trade among young girls seen selling 'Nang Nang' (small fish) and simsim along the Packwach Highway, leading to the increased spread of STIs and HIV/AIDS in the communities.

The meeting which was held with key duty bearers in the referral pathway, a GBV Review Coalition, chaired by the Nebbi District Chief Magistrate, also reported increased violence from men towards their partners exhibited through refusal to access family planning, education and support.

The coalition who are mainly district and religious leaders thus resolved to create a Rapid Response Team that will be made up of key duty bearers from the 3 committees within the coalition on land justice, violence against women and girls and harmful traditional practices.

These will ensure the voice of the coalition against GBV is heard and notable actions taken in bringing perpetrators to book. They also committed to information sharing through GBV coalition Whatsapp, SMS and Email groups. The reflection meeting was organized by the ActionAid GBV shelter in Nebbi, in a bid to track progress as we struggle to bring an end to gender based violence in the
